

Dear Madam / Sir,

Please do not allow single corporations to control the information we have access to. I rely both on newspapers and television stations to obtain the news. I appreciate the diversity they offer. I fear the day when what I read, watch, and hear all come from the same source. How can we ensure that what they present is true? By preventing an amalgamation of the provider, the system we have guarantees a certain amount of accountability, i.e. the consumer still has a choice between competing medias and companies.

Thank you
